

California Governor Gavin Newsom recently signed an executive that changes the presumption of worker's compensation coverage for employees who were directed to work outside the home from March 17 until approximately July 5 and have tested positive for COVID-19.

You may read the executive order in its entirety by clicking here.